WE NOMINATE

W. Arthur Lewis, one of the distinguished economists of his time and known throughout the world for his studies of economic growth and political and social change in the emerging nations, who this fall under a special Rockefeller Foundation grant will be holding classes some 8,000 miles from his "home base" on the University Campus. The 51-year old Lewis, knighted in 1963 by Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain, will devote a portion of the upcoming fall semester to teaching in Nigeria's University of Ibadan, one of the handful of African universities showing marked promise for educational leadership.

Trail-blazing ventures both in scholarship and the practicalities of politics have loomed large in the career of this native of the island of St. Lucia in the British West Indies. Prior to coming to Princeton in 1963 as Professor of Economic and International Affairs in the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Sir Arthur served for four years as Vice-Chancellor of the University of the West Indies and at a critical point in West Indian affairs, following the surprising break-up of the long-planned Federation of 10 British colonial possessions in the Caribbean, became adviser to Jamaica's Prime Minister.

Lewis' years in Jamaica have provided the back-drop for one of his major research undertakings, a joint study with Sir John Mordecai, former Deputy Governor General of the West Indies Federation, of the abrupt dissolution of an organization envisioned as a logical step toward dominion status in the British Commonwealth. After the 1961 referendum, when the people of Jamaica voted to end all Federation ties, Lewis was "tapped by" the Prime Minister because in the atmosphere of bitterness created by the vote he was one person acceptable to all sides. As such he served as Jamaica's liaison man, visiting all of the islands involved as well as London and Washington.

In the year ahead as one of seven McCosh Faculty Fellows, considered the highest honors the University can confer upon members of its faculty, Lewis will be carrying forward research into the development of a world economy between 1870 and 1914, an area in which he has already done a great deal of work. By appropriately linking statistics for this country, Great Britain, Germany and France, Lewis believes it is possible to create a model which will explain such phenomena as the rate of growth of world population, the volume of international trade, and the integration of less developed countries into the international nexus.

A newly elected member of the American Philosophical Society and holding honorary degrees from universities on three continents, Lewis was educated at the Universities of London and Manchester. A decade (1938-1948) as Lecturer at the former was followed by a decade as Stanley Jevons Professor of Political Economy at Manchester and service as Deputy Managing Director of the United Nations Special Fund. The author of several classic works, including "The Theory of Economic Growth," Lewis has been a consultant to the Governments of the Gold Coast and Western Nigeria and in 1957-58 was economic adviser to the prime minister of Ghana.

For his wide-ranging understanding of the processes of economic growth and industrialization in the "new Nations;" for ever seeking to strengthen the capacities of educational institutions; for sharing Woodrow Wilsons' conviction that "education is essentially a branch of statesmanship;" he is our nominee as

FIRST BIRTHDAY

For Dilley Report. One year ago, in the first week of September, 1965, Princeton citizens saw in black and white what had been rumored for some time: that consolidation of Borough and Township wasn't feasible because the tax inequities were too great.

Named colloquially for the executive director of the study, Robert V. Dilley, the report crossed out full consolidation for the time being ("a generation," some said). But some things can be done short of legal consolidation, the report said, and in fact, should be done.

Today, a year later, two of these recommendations have indeed been carried out. The others are at least being thought of in somebody's mind and meetings to talk them over have been filled in on the 1966 autumn calendars of those involved.

The most important recommendation, of course, was the merger of Princeton's two school systems. Defeated in the first referendum a scant month after the Dilley Report was released, merger was finally passed at the second referendum last June.

Chronologically, the first recommendation of the report was implemented last September when Borough Council passed a building code almost exactly like the Township's.

In three other areas of municipal concern, the Dilley report stated that "joint functioning without consolidation would be beneficial to both municipalities."

Planning. The subcommittee on planning recommended a regional planning board which would help the Borough Planning Board and the Township Planning Board in area planning, and extend a warm welcoming hand to neighboring municipalities.

A joint subcommittee of the two planning boards was formed to study the question. But in the words of Hans K. Sander, chairman of the Township Planning Board and a member of the subcommittee, "Nobody has pushed this early very hard."

The group met and immediately found problems: Even to set up such a board, you would need ordinances from both the Borough and Township. How much responsibility would a regional planning board have? Each planning board would find some of its responsibilities chipped away and passed to the

WANTED: A SIGN PAINTER: With the Princeton Regional Schools starting their first academic year this week, there were a lot more important things to do than to paint signs. That's why this old "Princeton Township" sign at the Stony Brook administration building has been replaced by the new one that reads "Princeton Regional Schools."

Regional Board, and who likes to lose only degree of control?

Also, Princeton is a volunteer town, and of necessity, a regional board would have some members who were already on Borough and Township boards, and this could mean 15 nightly meetings a month instead of six.

CURRICULUM LISTED

The current issue of TOWN TOPICS includes, on pages 20 and 21, the complete curriculum for the 1966-67 term of the Princeton Adult School. Early registration for the courses listed is advised and a coupon is provided to facilitate doing so by mail.

"Basically, the Township Planning Board is in favor of such a regional board," Mr. Sander states, although he adds that some members would have to be "sold" on the idea.

"The Borough Planning Board is definitely interested, states Arthur P. Morgan, its chairman.

However, the Borough Board has been deeply involved in its own Master Plan and has felt, quite justifiably, that it didn't want to scatter its energies.

No meetings have been held on the matter since February, but Mr. Sander thinks there is more receptivity to the idea now than there was in February.

Regional planning is now apparently in the hands of the Chamber of Commerce. Its director, that very same Robert V. Dilley who served as guide for the Dilley Report, has called a meeting for September 15 to put in motion some new thinking about regional planning.

More than 30 people have been invited, including the mayors of West Windsor and Pennington, representatives from the Lawrence Township Planning Board, from Somerset County, Plainsboro, Rocky Hill, Dayton, East Windsor, Princeton University and the engineering departments of Princeton Borough and Township.

Mr. Dilley, like Mr. Sander, believes that problems of how to use land, how to route and control traffic, how to pool such facilities as sewers for the benefit of all communities, are matters that need a regional approach.

"Geography is frustrating to us," Mr. Dilley observes.

Public Housing. The Dilley Report subcommittee that handled public housing believed that Township families were being short-changed. The full consolidation committee wasn't convinced that the Township had any serious need for public housing, but did recommend that Township Committee try to find out how much need there was.

The Committee also suggested conversations with the Borough Housing Authority which might establish some basis for Township participation in future public housing.

"We've had no formal requests for public housing," Township Committee Administrator Joseph R. Nini this week. "We did some housing research several years ago when there was talk of a joint borough - Township housing project on the River Road sewer site but there didn't seem to be much need in the Township."

Mrs. Karin Slaby, executive director of the Borough's Housing Authority, has written to Township Mayor Carl C. Schafer about a meeting, and both agree that the meeting should be held, but scheduling has been a problem. It will probably be held this fall, Mrs. Slaby said, between one or two Housing Authority Commissioners on the one hand, and citizens appointed by Mayor Schafer, on the other. The area for discussion is ill-defined, partly because the Borough Housing Authority isn't authorized to work with the Township.

"We would have to begin I guess, by asking one another 'What can we start thinking about?'" Mrs. Staby suggested.

Health. "The community can best be served by a unified health department," the Dilley report stated.

Again, it seems to be a question of "this fall." A meeting will be held in September or October between Borough and Township to talk it over. Dr. William Kleinberg, chairman of the Township's Board of Health, and Dr. J. Leonard Moore, chairman for the Borough, have been in close touch on the question of coordinating health activities.

"With a combined health department," says Mrs. Morecella Farley, the Township's Health Officer, "we could do more than just check septic systems. David Blake (Borough Health Officer) and I could expand into health education, working with the schools and with various community groups."

The two health departments already work together on the free rabies clinic for dogs, the venereal disease clinic, and with the Visiting Nurse and the county's child guidance organization.

A joint health department would have to be submitted to Borough and Township voters in a referendum because both municipalities must vote to contribute to the single budget.

But — in sharp contrast to so many similar documents gorged and then left to rot by other municipalities — a year's time is welcome proof that the Dilley report has by no means been shelved.

PRINCETON GETS FUNDS

For Child Guidance. The Princeton community — Borough and Township together — is one of four Mercer County municipalities outside Trenton which will share an Office of Economic Opportunity grant of $127,000 to provide child guidance for low-income families. The other communities are Hightstown, Hamilton and Ewing.

David Hapgood, secretary of the Princeton Community Action Council and one of the three Borough members of the six-man group, said this week that there is one catch to the grant: the community must provide quarters, the "roof," so to speak, and so far, the Council hasn't found a place where the guidance staff could meet their young clients.

Application has also been made, Mr. Hapgood said, for legal aid for low-income families, probably a lawyer who would come to Princeton once or twice a week; however, no word has been received on this application so far. The Princeton Council has also applied for money for the Princeton Study Center.

One project of the Princeton Council is the Princeton Nursery School, the so-called Leigh Avenue Nursey School. Under-staffed, in small quarters with a waiting list so long that many mothers who might be eligible don't even bother to apply, Leigh Avenue is quite literally boxed in.

Mr. Hapgood says the Princeton Community Action group would like to see the nursey become a year-round day care center. Instead of the school-year nursery school it now is. But OEO funds can't got be used to buy a larger building, Mr. Hapgood said, because so many of the families who use the nursery are over the OEO $3,000 yearly income limit. He added that if the school's board of directors would have to decide whether to expand the school to a day-care center, or leave it as it is.

Chairman of the Community Action Council is the Rev. Edward Smith, one of the three Borough members. The other Borough member is Mrs. Arthur Sherwood. The three Township members are Leonard Newton, the Rev. Arthur Byers and Mrs. Frances Dwiggins.

RESIDENTS TERRORIZED

By Young Gang. "You've got to do something!"

Residents of the John F. Hageman homes on Clay Street came into the office of the executive director, Mrs. Karin Shaby, on Tuesday morning, urging her to do something about the disturbances in the area over Labor Day weekend — and, indeed almost every night all summer long.

About 15 boys, approximately 16 years old or younger, are involved, Mrs. Shaby and the residents believe. Most of them live in the neighborhood of the Clay street apartments — residents recognized familiar faces — but many are strangers who drive in, perhaps from Trenton or New Brunswick, and park nearby.

They gather on the John Street playground and then funnel into Clay Street. On Labor Day, they threw bottles, tried to rob an elderly man, who sought refuge in a Clay Street home; shouted and used unpleasant language.

Tires Slashed. Tires on parked cars were slashed and the cars themselves damaged. One Clay Street resident reported to Mrs. Shaby the theft of her house keys when one of the boys broke into the glove compartment of her car.

"The people are frightened and upset," Mrs. Shaby reported. "They are afraid to identify the boys and to press charges with the police."

Borough Police Chief Peter J. McCrohan said, following the Labor Day disturbances, "The residents must point the finger at these boys, identify them and come into court and testify. Of course they're scared to! But they ought to get together and realize that's the only way the police can handle the situation."

Curfew "Useless." A curfew for young people is on the Borough's lawbooks and has been, in its current form, since 1943; however, Chief McCrohan says it is worthless and certainly unenforceable.

It sets a curfew hour of 10 p.m. in the summer for youngsters under 16. They are not theoretically, allowed out again until 5 a.m. The school years hours are 9:30 p.m. to 5 a.m. This means, in effect, that a boy or girl under 16 could not go to the 9 p.m. show at the movies and get home legally.

Mrs. Slaby says the boys vanish when the patrol car comes, only to reappear after it has gone.

She has suggested a "cop on the beat," who would patrol the area on foot and prevent the gang from forming, but Chief McCrohan says he does not have enough patrolmen for such duty. Besides ,in a small town, police faces would be well-known even if the men were in plainclothes.

The current rash of unpleasantness has no overt racial overtones. The boys are Negroes and so are most Clay Street residents. Underlying the fear of the Clay Street tenants, however, is the worry that Princeton at large will come to identify peaceful householders with the young hoodlums, simply because both groups are Negro.

CLAY ST. AREA TARGET

Of Weekend Crime. Assault, breaking and entering, theft and vandalism were a part of the Labor Day weekend in the Clay Street area.

Eskikih Rhodes of Philadelphia, former Princeton resident, who was visiting his brother, Playton Rhodes, 327 Witherspoon Street, was stopped, police said, by three Negro teenagers on Labor Day while he was walking on Clay Street. Police quoted the victim as saying the youths demanded money and when he told them he didn't have any, one of the youths drew a knife.

Mr. Rhodes, who is in his early 70's, according to his brother, ran into a house at 71 Clay, where a resident called the police. The incident occurred at 8:56 p.m.

Chief Peter J. McCrohan said that the victim could give no other description of his attackers except that they were young Negroes. He added that the police have received increasing reports of people being harassed and attacked by youths in that area.

Three cars were ransacked on Sunday night. Gertrude Cadison, 60 Clay Street, said her car, parked in a Clay Street lot, was ransacked during the night and a $65 35mm camera taken from the glove compartment. A vent window had been forced, police said.

The same method of entry — broken front vent window — enabled thieves to rifle the car of Matthew Geis Sr., 90 Stanworth Lane, and escape with an undetermined amount of pennies from the glove compartment. The car was parked in Stanworth.

Alban Forcione, 41 Stanworth, also reported his car had been searched. Taken was a small black purse containing insurance cards and the car's registration. He told police the car had been left unlocked.

Earlier in the week, there were these events: William Sneed, 73 Clay Street, reported the slashing of two of his car's tires while it was parked in a Clay Street yard. Value: $30.

The manager of Country Farm Store, 205 Witherspoon Street, reported his store was entered by someone who broke a pane in the rear door. Missing was a small amount of newspaper money, a home-made .22 calibre single shot gun and a cigarette lighter.

Pistol Stolen. In the process of moving from 26 Witherspoon Lane, Carl W. Vernon had left an unlocked U-haul trailer parked in front of his house. Thieves helped themselves to a 35mm camera and a Brownie camera with a combined value of $35; 10 long playing records and a German Luger .30 caliber pistol in a leather holster.

"We get nervous when we hear of pistols such as this being stolen," Chief McCrohan said.

Mrs. David Burton, 5 Lytle Street, returned from a vacation to discover her refrigerator door left open and $35 in change taken from a dresser drawer. Police reported finding an unlocked window on the west side of the house.

PRIMARIES TUESDAY

No Contests Here. Tuesday is Primary Day in New Jersey, but at the municipal level in Princeton Borough and Township there are no contests.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. for voters who wish to indicate their support of party candidates.

In the Democratic party, state-wide, there is a five-way contest for nomination as the party's candidate for the United States Senate. The chief contenders are Warren W. Wilents, the regular organization candidate, and David Frost, who is running on a cease-fire-Viet Nam ticket.

The Republican Senatorial incumbent, Clifford P. Case, is unopposed.

News Of The THEATRES

DIRECTORS NAMED

At McCarter, Preparations began in the wings of McCarter Theatre this week as the theatre announced its roster of directors for the plays to be given in the 1966 Fall Drama Series.

Four plays will be given this fall: "Agamemnon," by Aeschylus, "A view from the Bridge," by Arthur Miller, "Hamlet," by William Shakespeare and "Once in a Lifetime" by George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart. The series will open on Friday, October 7.

McCarter's executive director, Arthur Lithgow, will direct the "Hamlet." Anthony Stimac, whose title is resident director, will direct "Agamemnon" and Once in a Lifetime" and Nikos Psacharopoulos, guest director, will stage "A View from the Bridge."

Mr. Lithgow is an established figure in Shakespearean drama, and perhaps the only director in the United States who has directed all 37 of Shakespeare's plays for the professional stage.

Mr. Stimac has been an actor - director at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in London for the past two years. His productions for the Academy of "School for Wives," "Julius Caesar" and "The Fantasticks" earned for him the high praise of London critics. At McCarter, Mr. Stimac will also play Horatio in the production of "Hamlet."

Mr. Psacharopoulos has been executive director of the Williamstown Theatre, Williamstown, Mass., since 1955. During the academic year, he teaches directing at the Yale Graduate School of Drama. He has also directed for WNTA-TV's Play of the Week.

MARTHA GRAHAM COMING

To McCarter, Martha Graham and her Dance Company will appear in Princeton for the first time this fall. The "First Lady of American Dance" will perform with her company of 50 on Sunday, October 9, at 3, as the first in a series of three Sunday afternoon dance concerts.

The National Ballet of Washington under Frederic Franklin, will return to McCarter on Sunday, October 23 and the Robert Joffrey Ballet will make its return to

Princeton on Sunday, April 9. All three companies are appearing under the joint sponsorship of the Princeton Ballet Society and McCarter.

This year, Martha Graham is making her first American tour since 1950. McCarter is the smallest theatre in which she is scheduled to perform, and McCarter spokesmen regard her appearance here as "one of the great coups in McCarter's dance history."

In the program outlined by the Washington National Ballet are works by George Balanchine and the Ballet's director, Mr. Franklin. The company of 65 last appeared in Princeton in the fall of 1964.

The Joffrey Ballet has just become permanently affiliated with the New York City Center of Music and Drama. The dancers made their most recent Princeton appearance last spring.

Subscription tickets are on sale at the McCarter box-office. Single tickets for the Martha Graham performance will go on sale Monday, September 19.

CHAMBER GROUP READY

Three Concerts Planned A performance of Paul Hindemith's "Four Temperaments" with Robert Freeman as piano soloist will be the featured work on the first program of the Princeton Chamber Orchestra, Monday, October 17 at McCarter Theatre. Nicholas Harsanyi will conduct.

The second concert, to be given on Monday, March 13, will be the occasion of the American debut of the English harpsichordist, George Malcolm.

It will be the occasion also of a world premiere: the Princeton Chamber Orchestra has commissioned a work by Milton Babbitt, and the composition will be heard for the first time at the March 13 concert.

Mr. Freeman is a member of the music department at Princeton University and Mr. Babbitt will succeed his former teacher, Roger H. Sessions, as William Schuman Consant Professor of Music at Princeton.

The orchestra's final concert will be given Wednesday, April 26. It will be a full production of Gluck's "Orfeo ed Eurydice," starring mezzo-soprano Shirley Verrett and soprano Janice Harsanyi. John Conklin will design costumes and sets.

Subscriptions may be purchased until October 1. Single admission seats will go on sale at the McCarter box-office three weeks before each event.

THE GARDEN

Those Magnificent Men In Their Flying Machines (now playing) The 132 flying machines are weird and wonderful, flown by as trenchant a batch of comics as ever seen on the screen.

The plot concerns a London-to-Paris race, sponsored by a London newspaper. Daredevils, played with Mack Sennett overtones, include Alberto Sordi as the excitable Italian, Gert Frobe, the militant German who finds himself flying with the aid of an instruction book; Jean-Pierre Cassell, the girl - loving Frenchman and Stuart Whitman as the breezy American. James Fox is our hero, Terry-Thomas is the villain, and Sarah Miles the heroine.

Red Skelton sets the pace in the prologue as the Neanderthal man trying to fly. The thrills, escapades and daringdo that follow are unforgettable.

THE PRINCE

Torn Curtain (now playing) Suspense creator Alfred Hitchcock concentrates more on espionage and chase than on

IT'S NEW To Us

WOOL SILK

Synthetics, Too. Colors, textures and patterns flow all over the Fabric Shop on Chambers Street in a shimmer of autumn sunshine.

You may go in, planning to buy a bit for a jumper, but you'll come out with fabric for a blouse, a coat and its lining, a dress and its matching coat. We dare you to browse!

The shop has arranged its supple woolens with vividly printed silks or estrons to give you suggestions about what goes with what. That deep plum wool, for example, is perfect with the $1.98 estron paisley print in violet, purple and blue.

The all-silk print in blues and greens, with the flowers precisely outlined, Tiffany glass fashion, would be sumptuous with one of the imported green or blue nubbed woolens, either as a suit blouse or a suit jacket lining, or possibly both.

Sometimes a print is entirely different when you see it in a different color. Look at that estron of tiny paisley designs in subtle gold, green and bronze. Look at it in royal and olive, and it's a different swirl altogether. (Fabric Shop shows it, in the golds, with a beige nubbed wool for the richest, quietest combination you could imagine.)

Lightweight printed wools are paisleys again (that print is ubiquitous this fall), perhaps in turquoise and royal, perhaps in persimmon and brown. Make a dress with a cowl neckline and see the soft drape.

The washable orlon, crease-resistant, has brilliant red and blue flower-leaf designs against white, and a paisley, too, but much more brilliant than the ones in wool.

Screw Loose?

If you're so handy with tools, how come you didn't make the Don Quixote at Viking Furniture?

He — the Don — is made out of a monkey wrench, appropriately enough. He sits astride a horse whose front legs (and rear ones, too, for that matter) are an open pair of pliers. His head is a hammer, (the claws are the ears) his body is a chain, and everything is painted black.

A smaller piece of sculpture is a pair of needlenose pliers with wistful washer eyes. His friend is a professorial fellow with a long, thin nose which turns out to be the spout of an oilcan.

Ready to bolt?

Bonded orlon—now there's a sewing idea! Fabric Shop reminds its Chambers Street customers that bonded fabrics don't need lining, usually. If you're in doubt about sewing techniques for these, just ask.

We like the violet-myrtle basketweave in bonded orlon because of its sheen and the brown with tomato-red flowers because of its autumnal tones and the pale blue with a mohair nub because it looks like mohair, and the camel tan because of its suavity. What's for you?

Matching all along the way, The Fabric Shop shows you the heathery wools with their matching houndstooth checks (heathery rose, copen blue, heathery olive, deep teal), and the imported coat and suit woolens, like the jade green or the sun yellow.

What will you make of that silky wool in white, or the deep, vibrant gold-on-gold houndstooth wool?

Corduroy this year comes in endearing little calico prints, on navy, black or bright red, cute as can be. The wildest wale you ever waled is in a luscious purple, not a grape but a good royal, horror and murder in this film. The cast is headed by Julie Andrews and Paul Newman.

The story itself is not to be taken seriously, but with tongue - in - cheek. It concerns an American nuclear physicist (Paul Newman) who ostensibly defects to East Berlin but is really a counter spy. His lovely assistant and fiancee (Miss Andrews) believes him a traitor.

The old Hitchcock verve first firmly asserts itself in a bizarre scene in which Newman and a fellow spy — an East Berlin farm woman — try to polish off a Communist agent who is about to expose them. But the hapless man won't die, so they stick his head in the gas oven. More easy to enjoy without wincing are some later episodes in the game of wits between Newman and Ludwig Donath, cast as an East Berlin scientist. There is a wild bus ride, the type of incident on which Hitchcock's reputation for meshing suspense and comedy is so justifiably based.

There are good performances, fine color camerawork and musical score.

Walk, Don't Run (now playing) achieves a blend of sophisticated humor and slapstick comedy. It should appeal to all ages.

Cary Grant plays a British industrialist who arrives in Tokyo during the 1964 Olympics. Unable to obtain a room, he barges in on Samantha Eggar, a young woman living alone who advertises "no apartment to share" but forgets to specify the sex. He takes under his wing an architect, played by Jim Hutton, who is competing in the 30-mile walking race (who is also without a room.) Miss Eggar goes into shock and Grant plays cupid. There is some nonsense about spies and police, with a stuffy member of the British Embassy on the sidelines.

Performances are smooth and the sights of Tokyo provide a most rewarding backdrop for the action.

FILMS TO BE SHOWN

At Washington Crossing. Nature and historic films will be shown at the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing State Park, on Friday evenings at 8 during the month of September. Rain date will be Saturday night for the films.

The showings, sponsored by the Washington Crossing Association and the park's nature interpretation center, are free to the public although small donations to help defray the cost of promotion will be accepted. This Friday night the films will be "Between the Tides," "How Living Things Change" and "Colonial New Jersey." Next Friday, September 16, "The Great Adventure" will be featured.

"ANY WEDNESDAY" ON

At Bucks County Playhouse. "Any Wednesday," a hit comedy on Broadway, is being performed at Bucks County Playhouse in a production starring Don Porter, Marsha Hunt, Susan Watson and Richard Rost. The show will run through September 17, and will be followed by another Broadway hit, "The Owl and the Pussycat," which runs from September 19 through October 1.

Mr. Porter will direct as well as act in "Any Wednesday." He has appeared as Professor Lawrence on television's "Gidget" series and has been featured in numerous films in the "Private Secretary" TV show which stars Ann Sothern.

"The Owl and the Pussycat," the final play of the season, will have Carol Cole and Joe Ponazecki in the leading roles of the adult comedy. Miss Cole, daughter of the late Nat King Cole, played the same role earlier this year in Los Angeles and received acclaim from Variety, the theatrical newspaper. The paper called her "a bright star" and "a nimble actress who can switch from wild anger to naivete at the drop of a hat."

Joe Ponazecki, who has appeared in New Hope in "You Can't Take It With You" and "The Impossible Years," will play a bigger role in "The Owl and the Pussycat." The play itself is billed as a hilarious comedy definitely not recommended for children.

It involves the lenuous romance between a would-be intellectual and the girl in the apartment across the way whose questionable activities he observes through a telescope. Walter Kerr of the Herald Tribune called it "Enormously entertaining — the laughs roll on and on."

Theatre party group discounts are available for the remaining shows.

PULL UP A CHAIR

And What a Seat!! They're seating the customers at Viking Furniture these days in a lord of the manor leather chair made in Brazil from rosewood and matte black leather, deeply dimpled with buttoned tufts.

It's a veritable saddle of a chair, made for MEN. It's wide and low, with loose pillows spread broadly over each rosewood arm. The ottoman has a pillow secured by leather straps and buckles. How do you say "Wow!" in Portugese?

Another chair, quite different, looks just like a Yorkshire terrier. It rests upon the slimmest, shiniest outline of a chrome rectangle and it's a simple, single seat-back of shaggy grey "fur." Wait'll the cat sees this one!

A vinyl circle chair is small enough for your smallest corner (mushroom or pedestal base) and a Danish swivel tilt-back is just the right size to free the TV. It looks like Saarinen's wing, but isn't.

The Dux reclining chair has been done to a startle in deep powder blue velvet print. Looks like a watered fabric, and rests lightly and well on its walnut (or teak) frame.

The sofa you loved in the '20's, grandma, is back at Viking and believe us, it's the most comfortable piece in the house. Its fabric is toast-black-beige printed velvet. Its depth is infinite because it has three loose pillows at the back and three on the seat. Its softness is unbelievable because the dacron is like down, except that is gently springy back. They had to wake us up at closing time.

Viking's favorite plateau table (all right — big, low coffee table) has an anodized copper top held in a walnut sleigh base. Stunning finish: do you suppose it conducts heat from ashtrays?

Various accessories at Viking are a delight this fall. The innocent lamb has been led to the slaughter and dyed to look like — well, what's your favorite animal? Tiger, we know. Besides a tiger, you may have the lambskin that looks like a cheetah, the one that looks like a zebra, and maybe even the one that looks like a lamb. Soft as can be, and wonderful as a throw.

A Puerto Rican sculptor who lives in Pennsylvania makes upside-down mobiles. Well, look at one! It's called "Wheat Chimes" and is consists of slender wands of brass clustered upright in a holder, each wand lipped with an ovoid metal coin. The slightest touch sets them quivering and softly singing to themselves. Delightful. Another is called "Garden Chimes." They're anodized metal flowers on stems, a throbbing red-gold that catches the sun.

And speaking of the sun! Here at Viking is a $139 copy of the Bertoia sunburst. It's a two-foot sphere of stiff copper wires, just like a porcupine. Hang it from the ceiling on copper chains or use it on top of a stand, like a floor lamp. The shadow patterns and the changing movements of light are hypnotic and evocative, like a year round Christmas ornament.

DAVID, BE MINE

The Man in the Suit. Customers at Mayme Mead's buy a new Davidow suit every fall, and what a wardrobe that builds up!

The suits are classics which don't vary much from season to season, but this year, there are exciting things like the lemon yellow wool shift with its inverted "Y" stitched yoke and the striking yellow top-coat criss-crossed with silvery blue.

The Davidow separate coats have raglan sleeves, or set-ins. One is in jade green, one in emerald, another in blue-grey misty tweed.

The walking suit re-appears this year, and Mayme Mead is especially fond of Davidow's, in true camel hair, as soft and silky as cashmere. Wheat ever Preserving of medieval knowledge during the Middle Ages was left up to the Christian Monks. They raised herbs and cared for the sick in their own hospital.

TODAY, THE HEALTH AND WELFARE OF THE COMMUNITY IS OUR BUSINESS.

Doctors of medieval Europe believed in getting rid of sickness by letting out some of the patient's blood. Leeches or direct bleeding were used for this.

TODAY, PRESCRIPTIONS ARE THE HEART OF OUR BUSINESS AT THE THORNE PHARMACIES.

16th Century doctors used tobacco to kill pain, and help asthma patients.

TODAY'S PRESCRIPTIONS ARE FILLED ONLY WITH THE FINEST PRODUCTS OF MODERN PHARMACEUTICAL MANUFACTURERS — STANDARDIZED AND QUALITY-CONTROLLED.

dates, all for Council, are Fred M. Bisicher and Charles Cornforth, Republicans, and Leonard M. Berry and Robert M. Hendry, Democrats.

In Princeton Township, the candidates for Committee are John D. Wallace and David S. Thompson, Republicans, and Geraldine L. Bowers and George J. Goldsmith, Democrats.

There is a contest in Pennington, where three Republicans have filed for nomination to the two Council seats. They are William E. Johansen, William E. Schluter and Rodman E. Harris. The Pennington Democrats are John J. Dongan and Thomas J. McGann.

In West Windsor, each party has only one candidate for the single seat: T. Alvin Carson, Republican, and Michael C. Greschak, Democrat.

In Lawrence, the two Republicans down for the two committee seats are Edward T. Converse and Daniel W. Williamson. The Democrats are Joseph M. Mahan and Joseph P. Dalle Pazze Jr., Thomas R. Kalisch has filed as the Democrat's nominee for the post of tax collector. The Republicans did not file for this post.

In Hopewell, Joseph N. Castora and Douglas S. Terhune are the Republican candidates for the two Council seats. The Democrat's nominees are Hugh M. Gilmore and Jewel Moran. For tax assessor, the Republicans have filed the name of Samuel K. Hunt, the Democrats that of Thomas B. Sprecher. Ruth E. Carver is the Republican candidate for tax collector, Marcia L. Devlin the Democratic candidate for tax collector.

Hopewell Township's two committee seats will be sought by Frederick G. Raxwelier and Donald H. Woodward, Republicans, and Robert R. Luse and Martin R. Katz, Democrats.

TWO CARS LEAVE ROAD

In Separate Accidents. Two cars driven by teenagers over the weekend in Princeton Township.

Gerald E. Nostrand, 18, Cranbury, was admitted in critical condition to Princeton Hospital with abdominal injuries when his car ran off The Great Road on Labor Day. Three passengers were treated for minor injuries and released.

Mr. Nostrand's Mustang, which flopped completely over before coming to rest, was adjudged a total loss by the police, who reported finding 141 feet of skid marks on the road. The accident is still under investigation.

Thomas E. Skidmore, 17, 35 Wilson Street, escaped injury when his car went out of control on Cherry Valley Road Sunday evening and left the road. It came to rest among a cluster of small sapling trees, after crossing the shoulder of the road and jumping a drainage ditch.

Young Skidmore, who has been driving only six months, told police his car started to skid while rounding a curve, in attempting to straighten it out, he lost control. There were no charges.

THOMPSON MISTAKEN

Chandler Says So. Ralph Chandler, Republican candidate for Congress from the new Fourth Congressional District, said that a campaign letter sent out by Incumbent Frank Thompson contains "a flagrant misstatement of fact."

Mr. Thompson says in the letter that he represents Hunterdon, Mercer, Sussex and Warren counties, but Mr. Chandler labeled the statement "completely false," explaining that Mr. Thompson cannot claim to represent a Congressional district whose people have not elected him. He said that Mr. Thompson only represents the old Mercer-Burlington district and not Hunterdon, Warren and Sussex.

Mr. Chandler cited the new Congressional District Act which states that the representatives of the 15 new districts created under reapportionment guess it, looking at a camel?

Another walker is a three-piece suit in black-gold-white checks with a black shell.

Lawrence of London keeps you dry, as always. This time, he slips onto your shoulders a hooded black vevet raincoat with rhinestone sleeve trim. Another is creamy white ribbed wool.

Dress ensembles are popular this autumn. Combine charcoal wool with a dark beige yoke that has unusual grey straps, wear it under a classic grey fitted coat, and you have understated high style.

Foxridge, this fall, pairs a teal green silk skirt, and tops them both with a diamond-pattern cardigan in exactly that green. Or rose, or grey, or powder.

Tanner's separate collection starts like this: a green wool skirt, a cream cotton shirt with long, full sleeves and a green leaf pattern and a ribbed Shetland cardigan.

Stay for cocktails? Of course! Mayme Mead's two-piece gold and grey-blue brocade shift has a dress-length matching coat. Coffee color, silky fabric — that's the start of a dress made with pale pink yoke pointing up from the coffee brown to a soft, roll-collar neckline and a pink rose. The matching jacket has a pink collar.

Formal evenings for formal ladies — try on the size 18 floor-length gown, regal in ivory with turquoise embroidery threaded with gold.

The charcoal grey wool is right down to the instep, the sleeves right down to the wrist, the U back right down to the shoulder blades. Talk about sophistication!

For rent:
Spain, Portugal, Gibralter
and Morocco. $16 a day.

Now you can take an escorted 22-day American Express tour this fall or winter for $348. Includes first-class hotels (guaranteed reservations), motor coaches, most meals. Read highlights, then clip coupon.

The sun countries. Portugal and a fado session in Lisbon. Down the winding coastal roads to Estoril and the fishing village of Nazare. Tangier and haggling with Arab traders in the Casbah. Casablanca. Whirling dervishes and snake charmers. Spain. Sunbathing on the beach at Marbella. The flamenco. All this and much, much more.

But what's the weather like, that time of year? Balmy. Even in the winter. This is Southern Europe and North Africa, remember.

Does American Express take care of everything? Everything. We lay on an air-conditioned motor coach. A multilingual guide who has all the answers to all your questions. Guaranteed reservations in first-class hotels. Most meals. (We thought you'd enjoy choosing a few exotic restaurants yourself.) Even your round-trip Pan Am Jet Clipper flight to Lisbon and back.

What is all this "everything" going to cost me? Total cost of the tour — new low economy air fare included — comes to $618. And that's it.

Any more questions? Our 64-page "Priceless Europe" brochure tells all. It's free. Just clip the coupon. Or see your travel agent. Or do both.

And have fun.

THE INSIDE STORY OF YOUR PERMANENT WAVE

Today's professional permanent is a happy three-way partnership. Your personal wishes and the special needs of your current hair condition, our unique beauty knowledge and permanent waving skill, and the magnificent selection of "personalized" waving formulas developed by modern beauty research chemists. These all combine to make your new permanent exactly right for your hair.

Although you couldn't see it through the strongest magnifying glass, each tiny strand of your hair is a hollow shaft, with a substance of its own inside. In the course of giving you a permanent wave, we deftly wind and wrap your hair around specially-sized rods, placed in the pattern that will best suit your finished coiffure. Then a permanent waving lotion, specially-selected to meet your personal hair needs, begins it's amazing chemical process.

It converts thousands of tiny cells within each hair shaft into lively, obedient waves by "setting" these cells into a new position so they won't fall stringy anymore. When we permanent wave your hair, we are in reality changing the shape of each individual hair shaft.

Now, the neutralizer scientifically balanced to act as a partner to your particular waving lotions, bathes each newly-formed curl. This makes the cell pattern "permanent", and leaves your freshly-waved hair in a youthful, "alive" state, ready to react beautifully beneath your comb!

For the best hair care visit TAVERNWOOD BEAUTY MANOR at 69 Palmer Sq. West, or call 924-3883. We Really care about your hair!

will begin service only in the new 90th Congress, to get underway in January of 1967.

He also attacked a questionnaire which accompanied the letter and which solicited voters' opinions. "It is strange that he should send out a questionnaire so close to the end of a Congressional session that it would be impossible for him to use the answers," commented Mr. Chandler.

"The explanation can only lie in the fact that this letter, sent out at taxpayers' expense, is merely campaign propaganda to create the impression that Thompson is the representative of the people of Hunterdon, Warren and Sussex counties. The truth is that a citizen in these three counties who wants to write his congressman today would send the letter to a Republican, Representative William B. Widnall."

Mr. Chandler also called the letter from Mr. Thompson "a transparent attempt to present himself as an incumbent representative to people in an area he has never represented and never will."

COURSES ANNOUNCED

By Adult School. The fall term of the Princeton Adult School will begin on September 29 and run through December 8, Mrs. Robert V. Dilley, chairman of the school, has announced.

More than 40 classes will be offered for the Thursday night sessions at Princeton High School. A complete curriculum appears on pages 20 and 21 of the current issue of Town Topics.

Registration for the school may be made by mailing the coupon in this issue. There will be one day of in-person registration at the High School in the cafeteria on Thursday, September 22, from 4-8 and from 8-9:30 p.m. At the evening there will be an open house for those enrolled and their instructors.

Because of limited space prospective students are urged to register immediately. The two big lecture series, on space and world events, have unlimited registration with individual admissions available if it is not possible to register for the whole series.

The lecture series on the world's trouble spots will be taught by members of the Princeton University faculty as Leon Gordenker, former member of the U. N. Secretariat, will speak on "The United Nations." Richard Ullman, former instructor at Harvard and Oxford, will concern himself with "Germany, East and West," while another Harvard teacher, Paul Sigmond, will discuss "Cuba and the U. S." and "Latin America and the Alliance for Progress."

Other subjects to be covered include "Ten Myths about Asia," "France and NATO," "Southern Africa," "Sub-Sahara Africa," "Japan and India" and "The U. S., U.S.S.R. and China." These lectures will be as topical as the morning papers, Mrs. Dilley points out.

There will also be a course entitled "Modern Architecture" which will be given by Peter Eisenman, Michael Graves and Anthony Vidver, all members of the Princeton School of Architecture. It will be an introduction to the theoretical and formal development in design of both residential and public buildings.

A course on the English lyric will be offered by Robert Hollander, professor in the department of romance languages and literature at Princeton University. It will start with the ballad and conclude with the works of Dylan Thomas. Other authors to be read include Shakespeare, Donne, Herrick, Marvell, Herbert, Wordsworth, Keats and Tennyson.

A class on the popular art of Chinese cooking will be taught by Mrs. Yung-Chi Chen and will be quite limited in size in order to provide individual instruction. Each lesson will cover a main dish and either a side dish, pastry or soup. There will be a final banquet to which each student may invite a guest.

ADULT SCHOOL LECTURERS: Leon Gordenker, former member of the U.N. Secretariat, will speak on "The United Nations" in one of the main lecture series on the fall curriculum of the Princeton Adult School. Peter D. Eisenman will be one of those giving a course on "Modern Architecture," both are members of the Princeton University faculty. Story this page.

How To Survive
Cary S. Kammler

You'll be a lot safer if you drive to work at ten minutes after six in the morning than if you leave at 5:45 a.m. About eight times safer, according to one national authority. More vehicular accidents resulting in death occur during the first six hours of the day than at any other time. On you return trip, the picture changes. Whatever time you leave, driving to work is safer than driving home. Nearly three times safer, on a national average. It is because of the high number of accidents at these hours that driving manuals tell us to put our lights on at dusk, and to leave them on until half an hour before sunrise. Our column and our business efforts are for your best interests.

THREE CHEERS FOR CHANDLER: One cheer each from each of these young men adds up to the requisite number. They are workers for Ralph Chandler, Republican Congressional candidate, but the Chandler Palmer Square headquarters serves other Republican candidates as well. One of them — a Republican candidate for Princeton Township Committee — happens to be named Thompson, and that also happens to be the name of Mr. Chandler's Democratic opponent. Things could be a little sticky where bumper stickers are concerned. (Left to right) Thad Mirer, George Taylor and Richard Speedy. (Staff Photo)

PTA OPENS DRIVE

To Raise Scholarship Money. The Princeton High School PTA has begun its annual drive to sell magazine subscriptions to raise money for college scholarships. Last year 13 students received financial aid through the profits of the drive.

Co-chairman for this year's sale are Mrs. R. M. Darrow and Mrs. Heinz Heinemann. They hope to increase the amount of each griot as well as the number of recipients. Subscriptions ordered in past years may be renewed at any time by contacting Mrs. T. E. Leverne, chairman of subscription renewals, or Mrs. Charles Plummer, chairman of processing.

This year emphasis will be on the sale of certificards or gift certificates during the holiday season. Donations are also welcome.

Area captains are: Area One, Mrs. Erwin Shaw; Area Two, Mrs. William White and Mrs. Charles Barwell; Area Three, Mrs. Max Bogart (north) and Thomas H. Kuhn (south); Area Four, Mrs. James Spencer; Area Five, Mrs. Geoffrey Rake, Plainsboro, Mrs. Ray Smith; West Windsor, Mrs. Stephen Kidd; Montgomery.

HOME IS ENTERED

On Russell Road. The home of Glen B. Miller Jr., 243 Russell Road, was discovered entered and ransacked Saturday when the owners returned from vacation, Mr. Miller is magistrate of the Township.

Detective Fred Porter reported that all the rooms and bedroom closets were ransacked. Known to be missing, he said, were a $150 charm bracelet, a woman's wrist watch and assorted fraternity pins. An inventory will be taken to determine if anything else has been stolen.

According to Det. Porter, a rear screen door was forced and a pane of glass in the rear door was broken to gain entry. Pfc. Michael Koplíner investigated.

Jewelry Box Missing.

Borough police report the disappearance of a red jewelry box from a bedroom of the home of Mrs. Susan Shepley, 130 Westcott Road. It contained several pieces worth a total of $285, police said.

Mrs. Shepley, who reported the theft last week, told police they had left for vacation on July 22, leaving the house in the care of her aunt and uncle. There was no sign of forced entry, police said.

THIEVES VISIT POOL

On Kingston Road. Thieves visited the pool of Donald Mackie, 568 Princeton-Kingston Road, sometime during the weekend.

Mr. Mackie reported a seven-foot table umbrella valued at $59 was missing, as well as a $40 bronze sundial and a pool chair. He told police he found two other chairs that had been thrown over the fence on Locust Lane. The outside fence of the pool faces Locust Lane.

TO START PARK IN '67

Assunpink. Construction will start next spring on the first part of Assunpink Park in West Windsor.

Property owners in the area of the Park were notified last week that the Mercer County Park Commission will decide within a week or ten days which farms it plans to acquire for phase one. "Three to six farms," was the estimate made by Freeholder Richard Coffee, president of the Commission.

Phase One of construction calls for an outdoor tennis center, multi-purpose recreation fields, parking and some road work.

Landowners in the area were told last March that their properties might be purchased by the Commission in late 1966 or early 1967.

The county has applied for $1,362,724 from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency to cover land purchase and relocation of families in Assunpink, Herrontown Woods, Roebling and Stony Brook parks areas.

Ordinarily, such Federal money is given only when the applicant files two separate property appraisals. However, the second appraisal has been waived by Harry J. Sharrett, acting regional director of urban renewal, because Mercer County had started plans for the park before this Federal policy was made.

TWO OFFICERS ADDED

To Borough Police Force. Two new patrolmen, who will serve as probationary officers for one year, have started careers with the Borough police force.

Selected as a result of the examination given last January by the State Police are Timothy G. Huizing, 25, 8 Lakeview Avenue, Kingston, who joined the force August 15; and Bernard C. Lenhardt, 27, of Hamilton Township, who joined September 1.

They will fill gaps left by the departure of officer Charles Sperling, who retired this summer, and Pfc. Donald Forward, who resigned August 15. The two new members raises the number of the Borough force to 25.

FALL MEETING PLANNED

Of Dogwood Garden Club. The first fall meeting of the Dogwood Garden Club will be held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Earl Douglass, 41 Armour Road.

Luncheon will start at 12 and will be followed by a business meeting and plant exchange. Co-hostesses will be Mrs. James B. Campbell and Mrs. Dudley Clark.

DESSERT PARTY SET

For Sweet Briar Students. The Sweet Briar Club of Princeton will hold a dessert party for returning students on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Robert J. Plumb Jr., 107 Meadowbrook Drive. Guests will be Colleen Colfree, recipient of the 1966 scholarship; Josephine Fox and Nancy Jean Pendergrass.

Results of the tulip bulb campaign for 1966 will also be announced. The project has been directed by Mrs. Bonsall Strong and Mrs. James Wittke.

REJECT MASTER PLAN

League Advises Planners. The League of Women Voters of Lawrence Township has recommended that the Planning Board not adopt a Master Plan at this time. The League listed insufficient communication between the planner, the Planning Board, the 701 Committee and the public as one reason for its stand.

It also objected to the lack of copies of the final map and the priority schedule and costs of the proposals. It further argued that the Planning Board had not met the spirit of long range comprehensive planning.

The league urged, instead, a more detailed study of existing conditions and the effect of the Master Plan proposals on them. It added that summer was a poor time to consider adoption of a master plan.

The League has announced that its first general membership meeting of 1966-67 will be held Tuesday evening in Room 302-304 Memorial Hall, Rider College.

INDIANS TO POW-WOW AT YMCA. The first fall pow-wow for the father and son Indian Guides will be held next Wednesday, September 14, at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA. The program will include a discussion of fall activities, a demonstration of Indian dances and announcement of the fall campout at the YMCA camp at Blairstown on September 24 and 25.

Indian Guides is a group for boys six through nine years old, and their fathers. Emphasis is on joint exploration of Indian lore, rituals, crafts and games. Those wishing to join may leave their names at the YMCA office, 924-4825.

Trees' Destruction Protested.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I was dismayed today to see RCA resume the wholesale destruction of trees along the Millstone River. On inquiry I discovered that their intention is to prettify the area.

The Millstone River is one of the few nearby places where one can get out of sight of civilization, where plants grow rank, wild, and untamed, where a variety of wildlife can find food and cover. Apparently the people responsible find uncontrolled natural processes unsettling. The urge to neaten, straighten and simplify has conquered them, and they have undertaken to completely control a small section of the river bank. Almost incidentally, trees of many years' growth have been sacrificed.

At least that is what they say. The last time they destroyed trees on that part of their property they planted new small trees where the older ones had been.

I hope that this does not mean that these are make-work projects for the employment and advancement of those responsible. If they are, the whole river bank may be in danger of thoughtless bulldozing.

A corporate neighbor is a funny thing. There is no single responsible owner.

The voices on the telephone seem to waver between "we own it", and "we only work here". Anyway, when they have finished this project we will have some insight into how someone (who?) feels about nature, beauty and perhaps also about ultimate reality.

JOHN M. GREENE

Explanation Sought.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Recently the Princeton Democratic Club invited the two leading Democratic contenders for a U.S. Senate seat to debate in Princeton at any time before the September 13th primary. An open debate between candidates is the best guard against the distortions of extremists, right and left.

Gov. Hughes has termed this Democratic primary a referendum on LBJ's Viet-Nam policy. Considering the vital importance of this issue, I am appalled that only one candidate, David Frost, immediately accepted the Club's invitation, while the other candidate refused without explanation.

Frost's coexistent position has been that thousands of lives, billions of dollars are being wasted in a futile attempt to stop Communist ideas with bombs and bullets. His opponent changes his position on the Viet Nam question; why hasn't he allowed us to learn first-hand about his changes and his stand of the moment?

As voters we must bear the responsibility for shaping the future; the Princeton Democratic Club tried to give us the opportunity to do so.

MRS. RUTH SCHULMAN
360 Franklin Avenue

A Unitarian Objects.
To the Editor of Town Topics:

I recently received a letter from an F. P. Ford, a member of the David Frost for Senator campaign. It was addressed "Dear Unitarian" (which I am), and listed among Mr. Frost's other qualifications the fact that he is a Unitarian.

I do not know why Mr. Frost considers himself qualified to be a United States Senator but I am amazed and frankly outraged that he would consider membership in one particular denomination to be a qualification for public office. I am further upset by the knowledge his supporters have apparently singled out Unitarians to support him. Mr. Ford attempted, without success, to obtain the complete list of our Church here in Princeton. I understand he has also attempted to obtain the lists from other Unitarian churches.

Mr. Frost with his somewhat overzealous belief in his own qualifications seems to have lost sight of some rather basic principles of U.S. politics. He seems to have forgotten that we do not mix our religion with our partisan politics no matter how noble one presumes one's cause. Furthermore Mr. Frost should certainly know, as a religious liberal, that the Unitarian Church as a body does not engage in partisan politics and certainly does not support him nor his proposals.

Finally Mr. Frost who is campaigning on a super-idealistic platform, should have been aware of the impropriety of his supporters' acts. With this as an example one can only wonder about what his judgment might be in other less clear and more complex areas.

THIEVES LOOT HOME

On Russell Road, The home of Timothy J. Sheehan, 216 Russell Road, was looted last week by thieves who, police said, took articles valued at more than $1500. Among the items taken were jewelry, furs, a coin collection and a set of golf clubs.

Mr. Sheehan called Township police early last week to report that the den and master bedroom had been ransacked during the weekend. Police said that a hammer and a screwdriver taken from the garage were used to force open the rear door. Pfc. Michael Koplicer and David Potts are investigating.

ZONING REQUEST WON

On Binational Estate Western Electric Company, Carter Road, will appear before Hopewell Township Committee Thursday to seek approval of its plans to construct an educational complex to train company executives. Earlier, Western Electric had received a unanimous go-ahead from the Zoning Board.

The proposed center is located on both sides of Carter Road on a 160-acre tract owned by Mark Jones. It would combine eight WE training centers across the nation where technicians are given instruction in computers and engineering and future managers are trained.

The project would include a single story classroom, library and laboratory on one side of Carter Road. Dormitory, residence halls and recreational facilities on the other. It would house 300 employees.

A condition imposed by the zoners was that a portion of the underpass be built under Carter Road. They also recommended to Committee that Western Electric be requested to study the possibility of a vehicle underpass.

A second stipulation was that Western Electric install any needed floodlighting or any unreasonable amount of lighting. At an earlier meeting, nearby residents had complained of the bright lights surrounding the research center.

At last week's meeting of the Zoning Board, Joseph W. Miller Jr., an assistant geologist with the State Bureau of Geology, testified that the proposed educational center would not drain the area's water supply as contended by Miss June Nelson of Carter Road. Questioned on the amount of use, Mr. Miller said that both WE tracts will withdraw only 170,000 gallons a day. A safe daily withdrawal rate for the half-square mile comprising WE would be 250,000 galloos, he said.

ARTS & CRAFTS OFFERED

At Sharon Studio. For the 12th year, classes in arts and crafts for children 5 to 14 will be offered at The Sharon Studio, Deer Path.

Instruction in drawing, oils, watercolors, metalwork, stonework, plastics, ceramics and woodwork will be given by Mrs. Ruth Sharon. Mrs. Sharon is the author of a two-volume book on arts and crafts and holds a Masters degree in the field.

More than 1000 projects created at the studio were on display at the Princeton Jewish Center. Complete information may be obtained by calling 921-6156.

TO SHOW GRAPHICS

At Gallery 100, The graphic art of Dean Meeker is now on display at Gallery 100 and will remain on view throughout September. The Gallery is located at 100 Nassau.

A pioneer in modern graphic art, Meeker creates three-dimensional effects by using new techniques and a special high-pressure press.

Some prints, such as "Iearus" and "Genghis Khan," the artist uses aluminum plate built up in its relief with a plastic substance. He also occasionally uses rollers of various degrees of hardness to ink the depressions.

METEORS ARE TOPIC

For Astronomers' Meeting. Raymond Stein, planetarium supervisor and assistant curator of astronomy at the state museum in Trenton, will speak on "Meteors and Meteorites" at the monthly public meeting of the Amateur Astronomers Association. The meeting will be held next Tuesday at 8 at the YMCA on Avalon Place.

Mr. Stein will discuss observations, finds and uses of meteorites from early times to the present era. He will also ex-

good reasons for dining out

Dining out makes good sense...
* no dishes to wash
* no pots to scrub
* no shopping to do
* no left-overs to eat
* it's just plain enjoyable and really, when you get down to costs and consider all the conveniences it's just about as costly to eat at home.
Put this all on top of the fine food you get at the Nassau Inn
* plus the wonderful atmosphere
* plus the splendid service and you have truly impressive reasons for dining out at the Nassau Inn.
And to top it all — at the Nassau Inn in Princeton, you can pick from
* three of the finest restaurants in the area.
There's no place quite like the 'Nass" and there's no time like now to enjoy eating out . . . to the fullest.

PTA TO MEET

In West Windsor. The first general meeting of the West Windsor Parent-Teacher Association will be held next Wednesday, September 14, at 8 in the auditorium of the Dutch Neck School. Guest speaker will be Dr. James D. MacConnell, professor of education and director of the school planning laboratory at Stanford University's School of Education.

The program is the first of a series of PTA meetings which will have school planning as their basic theme. Dr. MacConnell will discuss current trends in education which affect school planning. He is also director of the Western Regional Center of Educational Facilities Laboratories, Inc., a non-profit corporation established by the Ford Foundation. Teachers and new principals in the West Windsor School system will be introduced at the meeting by superintendant of schools Frank Walton.

HOURS ANNOUNCED

By Public Library. The Princeton Public Library has resumed its regular service hours.

Adult department hours are Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 9:30 to 9 p.m. and Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday from 9:30 to 6 p.m. The children's department will be open from 9:30 to 9 p.m. on Mondays and from 9:30 to 6 p.m. Tuesdays through Saturdays.

PENNINGTON TOLD NO Sewer Plan Rejected. It's back to the drawing board for the Borough of Pennington in its protracted struggle to build a sewer system.

The state Commissioner of Health, Dr. Roscoe P. Kandle, has rejected Pennington's plans for a sanitary system to be located within the boundaries of the Borough. "We are very disappointed," commented Councilman William Schluter, in charge of sewers and sanitation, "that the state has rejected these plans . . . that it took them over six weeks to reach these conclusions is extremely harmful to Peanington's efforts to obtain sewers."

Pennington is engaged in a race with time. If it does not receive approval from the State Department of Health soon over its plans to install a sewer system, it faces the possible loss of federal aid. On June 6, the Farmer's Home Administration set aside for Peanington sewers $418,000 as Heinemann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heinz Heinemann, 52 Locust Lane; and Ann Rugbey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rugbey, Pretty Brook Road, will register as freshmen for classes at Wellesley College, Wellesley, Mass., this Sunday. Miss Coffin and Miss Heinemann were graduated from Princeton High School while Miss Rugbey graduated from Miss Fine's School.

John B. Johnstone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Johnstone, 1091 Kingston Road, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force after graduating from officer training school at Lackland AFB in Texas. A graduate of Princeton High, he has been assigned to Kelly AFB in Texas for duty as an administrative officer.

Michael Kuorr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Knorr, Brunswick Pike, is among 33 freshmen who are participating in pre-season football drills at Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pa. He is a graduate of Princeton High and is enrolled in the science curriculum at Juniata.

a grant and $637,000 at a 4 per cent loan.

"Delays such as this will jeopardize the federal funds which are tentatively committed to our sewer program," Mr. Schluter remarked. He added that he had called Commissioner Kandle to arrange a conference for a full airing of the matter.

Since 1964, the municipality has been under orders from the State Board of Health to stop polluting streams and install a sanitary sewer system. Attempts to work out a joint system with Hopewell Township proved fruitless. Later, Pennington applied to the state for permission to erect a sewage treatment plant in the Township but was turned down.

AUCTION ANNOUNCED

By Princeton University. The fourth annual auction of student furniture at Princeton University will be held on Saturday, September 17, in the University Armory located just to the southwest of Palmer Stadium off Washington Road.

Roy S. Vogt, director of purchases and office services at Princeton, said that the auction will begin at 9 a.m. and continue through the day, rain or shine, until all items have been sold. The auction will be conducted by Lester and Robert Slatoff of Trenton.

Up for bidding this year will be hundreds of desks, bureaus, tables, beds, book cases, chairs and other items of student furniture. Miscellaneous surplus equipment, including a number of drafting tables, will also be on sale.

Free parking space is available near the Armory. An inexpensive lunch may be purchased and snacks will be available all though the day. Delivery services will be provided at moderate cost.

NEWCOMERS WELCOME

At YWCA Meeting. Women who have moved into the Princeton area during 1965 and 1966 are invited to the Newcomers Club's first fall meeting next Wednesday, September 14, at the YWCA. Mrs. Doris Lee, adult program director of the YWCA, will explain the club's purpose and the entire Y program.

The club was founded in 1959 and now has 197 members. Members must reside within a 15 - mile radius of Princeton and are eligible to participate in club meetings for only two years.

The meeting will begin with a social hour at 12:30 followed by the discussion of future plans by the chairmen of the 11 interest groups. These groups include bowling, fine arts, gardening, gourmet, knitting, New York City tours, oil painting, town and country tours and three bridge groups. Planned for September are tours through New York and the Herrontown Woods.

Why Mercedes-Benz has the nerve to charge $4170 for a car with a funny-sounding Diesel engine measure its lifespan in hundreds of thousands of miles. All this economy—plus advanced features from front disc brakes to fully independent suspension—make the 200D a shrewd investment. For further proof, read on.

As over 500,000 Mercedes-Benz Diesel owners have found, this roomy $4170 sedan offers more economy—over a far longer period—than flimsy little gasoline-powered "economy" cars ever could.

The secret: A Diesel engine that Mercedes-Benz engineers devoted 30 years to perfecting.

There's no more efficient power plant known—and it cuts costs so sharply that its "funny Diesel sound" is regarded almost with affection by Diesel owners.

Not that it's deafening—as CAR LIFE magazine reports: "Once under way, things quiet down and many unsuspecting passengers are surprised to learn that they've been riding in a Diesel."

Under the hood

Why should a Diesel engine make a different noise than conventional engines?

In a Diesel, fuel feeds through injection nozzles directly into the combustion chambers. Here, instead of spark plugs, sheer compression ignites the fuel with more than twice the force of an average V8.

It's this combustion that you hear—and its efficiency helps squeeze 30 miles from every gallon of diesel fuel.

Mercedes-Benz motor cars: from $25,582 to $3,955

You may be able to afford a Mercedes-Benz without knowing it. Below are suggested retail prices* for 8 of the 15 Mercedes-Benz models:

600 Grand Mercedes	$25,582
300SE Coupe	11,590
230SL Roadster	6,185
250S Sedan	5,747
230S Sedan	4,785
230 Sedan	4,140
200 Diesel Sedan	4,170
200 Sedan	3,955

*East and Gulf Coast ports of entry, exclusive of options, state and local taxes if any.

Refuelling stops are rare with the Mercedes-Benz 200D—fuel consumption averages 30 miles per gallon of diesel fuel, and a single tankful can take you 500 miles. For more good news, clip coupon.

About diesel fuel: It's cheaper than gasoline in most areas. It's obtainable at thousands of outlets, wherever diesel trucks fill up.

And it actually helps lubricate working engine parts, reducing wear so much that original Diesel piston rings have been found still serviceable after 250,000 miles.

Still more savings

Diesel economy stretches beyond fuel consumption figures. This unique engine uses no spark plugs, no points, no distributors or carburetors—so you'll never shell out money for replacements or costly tune-ups. And due to fundamentally different operation, the Diesel engine's prime parts are built far stronger.

Diesels last so long that one owner in Oregon has gone over 600,000 miles without major repairs. With decent care, your 200D will still be smoothly humming along while conventional cars are being rebuilt—or chopped up for scrap.

Ask an Alaskan

Mercedes-Benz Diesels are familiar sights in Alaska, Asia and wherever the terrain is rough. The car is rugged, yet you ride in blissful comfort over any surface.

Mercedes-Benz engineers long ago discovered the advantages of a fully independent suspension—an ingenious means of coupling fierce road grip with jolt-free riding ease.

Durability throughout

The 200D is built throughout to standards aimed at a long, trouble-free life.

Durability begins with the body shell—a taut, heavy-gauge steel "unit" structure. Ten thousand spot welds squelch squeaks and rattles. A 24-pound primer coat, plus 24 pounds of permanent undercoating, stifle the creeping menace of corrosion.

Before painting, skilled workmen shave away every burr and blemish from the body. Then the 200D receives two enamel coats—the first coat wet-sanded, the second sprayed by hand.

Staunch brakes

When you stop in the 200D, you stop smoothly and straight. Time after time, from any speed even on gravel roads.

The two major reasons: (1) 9.9-inch front disc brakes and finned, turbo-cooled rear drums that supply excess stopping power for this 1½-ton machine; and (2) four-ply, super premium-grade tires designed to "dig in" on braking as they claw the road in cornering.

Note: The 200D's brakes are power-assisted as standard equipment. There's no dled up front in separate, deeply upholstered chairs that orthopedic physicians helped design for minimum fatigue on long trips. The contoured single rear seat measures a full 5 feet wide.

A built-in ventilation system admits constant fresh air while whisking away stale air—with windows shut. Thoughtful extras are plentiful, from an electric clock to rear seat armrest.

Safety an obligation

Mercedes-Benz views safety as a sober obligation, not a public relations problem. Thus the 200D's body is a safety feature in itself.

The center section where you ride is rigid. Front and rear sections are designed to crumple on violent impact, absorbing shock before it reaches the passenger area.

Door locks are designed to withstand collisions from any angle. And inside, 12 danger spots are either padded, recessed, or made of pliable materials.

Clip coupon for brochure

To find out more about the 200D and three other Mercedes-Benz models, send for your 24-page color brochure. Just fill out and return the coupon below.

Better yet, stop in at our Mercedes-Benz showroom. And see what it's like to drive a car built to be the best—not the best seller.

PHS FOOTBALL II

(This is the second of three articles on Princeton High School's football prospects for 1966.)

It Looks Good on Paper. If he sees fit, Coach Dick Wood can start a letterman at every line position this year. On top of that, such a line would average around 195 pounds and that is a lot of beef for high school players.

"It looks good on paper," said Wood, but he gave the impression he wasn't wholly convinced. One thing he wouldn't deny was that with the exception of center, he has the manpower to pick and choose during the weeks of practice ahead.

Following is a position by position list of candidates for the single wing offensive line. In his discussion, Wood has limited himself to juniors and seniors.

Strongside End: No one is going to bump co-captain Tom Wood from the spot he played last year, unless it is his father-coach who reported he may be forced to experiment with Tom at tailback. At 6-3, 215, Tom has the size and experience to be one of the outstanding ends in Mercer County this season. The big problem, as Coach Wood views it, is to find somebody who can throw to him.

Two leading contenders are senior John Cromwell, who has had a lot of jayvee experience but who lacks the height for an end, and junior Tom Butterfoss. Butterfoss is huge, measuring 6-3, 211 as a sophomore. Last season, he played tackle.

"I'm thinking about using Butterfoss at end, especially if we have to put Tom in the backfield," said Wood. "If we find he can catch, we plan to throw him short." Butterfoss is not overly fast.

The sleeper for strong end may be Nick Ryan, a junior. "He's a nut on physical education," says assistant coach Tom Murray, "and he is in top physical condition." Ryan has good hands and is strong. His one liability, according to Wood, is a bad case of nerves. "He'd really help us, if he could get over his problem," said Wood.

400 POUNDS OF THRUST: Brandon Steechini (left), 191 pounds, and Tom Wood, 215-pound co-captain, are lettermen returning to the PHS offensive line. Both seniors, Steechini will anchor the difficult running tackle slot and wood will return to the strongside end position.

Outside Tackle: The only problem is deciding between Mike Pomianuski and John McKever, both seniors, and Butterfoss. All are returning lettermen. All are big, with McKever weighing in at 254 and Pomianoski at 195. All three are expected to play defense as well.

Running Tackle. This appears to be the province of Brandon Steechini, who has had considerable experience at the position and has the necessary toughness the position demands. He is a letterman.

Competition will come from senior Stanley Forgue, who lacks experience, but is described by Wood as one of the most intelligent boys on the squad, and from juniors Walter Goodale and Garry Everson.

Strongside Guard. Bob White, who played almost entirely on defense last year, heads the list of candidates. A senior and a straight A student, Bob weighed 209 last year. "He is surprisingly rugged," commented Wood, "and he never complains. He's come a long way."

White will have to contend with the bid of Peter Stanbuck, a fine hockey player who entered PHS last year from a private school and who played sporadically on defense. He was hampered largely by a bad ankle. A rugged 6-0, 200 pounder, Starbuck has "lots of possibilities."

Juniors Harry Rosso and Guy Moody both have good size but lack experience, while Robert Bartolino will be a contender only if he sheds some excess weight. "He's too heavy

Question of the Week

Question: Who do you think will win the National League pennant: the Dodgers, Giants or Pirates?

Where asked: Nassau Street.

Jerry Lacklond, North Brunswick, employee of Langrock's: I think I'll pick the Pirates. Their pitching is weak but their hitting is terrific.

Steve Spiegel, 124 Nassau Street, owner of Varsity Sport Shop: I would go with the Giants because they have much better balance; they should be more consistent. In Marichal and Perry they have the two best starting pitchers in either league, which matches them with the Dodgers. Their hitting isn't as good as the Pirates' but its adequate and there's no comparison between the pitching of the Pirates and that of the Giants.

Henry Wilkinson, 55 Little Brook Road, PHS student: I'd say the Giants. They have a good pitching staff—although not as good as the Dodgers', perhaps—and they have better hitting than the Dodgers or Pirates.

Bill Jones, 51 Bertrand Drive, student, St. Thomas College, St. Paul, Minn.: Personally, I think the Dodgers will. They have the clutch pitching. When the Dodgers are down and they have to come through, their pitching staff will.

Mike Meyer, 27 Witherspoon Street, retired: I think Pittsburgh will win it. They have a better hitting team than the Giants. The Dodgers, three games out, are more or less out of it.

Louis Intartaglia, 68 Clearview Avenue, PHS student: I say if Drysdale can come around, it will probably be the Dodgers. If not, then my guess would be Pittsburgh—they've got enough hitting. Gaylord Perry is slowing down.

Nick Carnevale, 71 Clearview Avenue, student, Notre Dame High School: The Dodgers, if Koufax and Drysdale can hold up. Otherwise, the Giants because of Willie Mays.

Luther Page, 7 Leigh Avenue: The Dodgers. They've got Koufax pitching. I feel that's enough. They'll come back; they've been in tight spots before.

Dennis Clagett, 147 Crestview Drive, student: The Giants. They've got the hitting. The Dodgers are good but they play in spurts. The Giants are more consistent.

Jerry Offredo, Trenton, employee, athletic department, Princeton University: I believe the Pirates will. I feel they have the better all-around ball club: better pitching, better hitting, better depth. I changed my mind in mid-season. I liked the Giants earlier but once Willie gets tired, they fall down.

William Benedict, Trenton, mechanic for Turney Motors: The Dodgers are out of it; they can't hold up under high pressure. I'll take Pittsburgh. They have almost a half dozen players hitting over .300.

Dan Galatro, Trenton, painter: The Giants will win it. They have the pitching in Marichal and Perry . . . and they've got the power.

Silas Massey, 165 Birch Avenue, engineer's aid, Borough Engineering Department: The Dodgers. They've down a few games now but I think in the long run they'll come back. They've got the material, they've got the pitching to do it.

George Evon, Mercerville, ironworker, manager of Little League team: The Giants—they have better pitching and better hitting. The defense may lack a little but I think it will come around. This may be the last chance for Willie to be in the World Series.

Elmer Schroth, Trenton, ironworker: The Dodgers will win it all. I feel Drysdale will win his $100,000 in the last three weeks. He's got to or he's going to be playing in the minors next year.

Tony Wilne, Hamilton Township, ironworker; The Dodgers . . . pitching. They've got it. They've got a good manager. They can win under pressure when the chips are down. They'll bounce back.

Andy Fleming, Trenton, ironworker: The Dodgers. They got the pitching, but they also have some terrible clutch hitters on their squad. And Alston is the best manager among the three.

John H. Williams, Neshanic, painter: The Giants are going to win it. I just think they have a better ball team—more power hitting.

THE BEST NUMBER to call for classified ads is 924-2200.

Dodgers to Win It

The Los Angeles Dodgers may not win the torrid National League pennant race, where they are engaged in a duel with San Francisco and Pittsburgh for top honors, but they won this week's poll conducted by Town Topics' inquiring photographer.

Despite their position below the Giants and the Pirates last week when the question was asked, eight picked the Dodgers to finish first, six named the Giants and four named Pittsburgh.

for his size," said Wood.

Center. "Center is a little sparse; I'd like to have more boys than we do," said Wood. So far, there is just two vying for the position — senior Craig Donaldson, a letterman, and junior Karl Stange. Donaldson is described as a "fine offensive center." From Stange, Wood said, he would like to get as much as he can. "Both are big boys but there's not much behind them. We may pick some sophomores up and try to fit them in."

Weak Guard. Top of the list is Keith Conover, the Little Tigers' field goal kicker par excellance, who booted taree in three games last year. Aside from his kicking, he was relatively inactive, but Wood expects to use the 190-plus letterman full time this fall.

Another vetran is stocky Jerry Fabian, who did the passing last year and is now ready to play full tilt. Despite his size, 205, 5-9, Wood said Fabian has good speed. He is a letterman.

Other candidates are David Gray, a senior with little experience, and Barry Abelson, Jim Pirone and Colin Schaeeweiss — all up from the sophomore squad.

Weakside End. Used mainly on defense last year, where he was a sure tackler, Rich Volz is expected to play the weakside end position. When co-captain Curt Mitchell moved to California, Volz was named by his teammates to succeed him. When he was used on offense, Volz, a letterman, proved to be a glue-fingered receiver.

Three juniors will challenge Volz: Jay Springer, Jay Turner and Bruce Robinson. Of the three, Springer has an edge. A member of junior varsity basketball and baseball teams, he has the physical attributes of a fine athlete but may be a trifle short for end. Wood predicted he would do well at the spot.

Summing up, Wood said, "We're strong so far as running is concerned; as for manpower, center will be our weakest spot, but if we don't have any injuries, we'll be all right.

"Volz will be the lightest man. Otherwise our line could average about 195. It looks good on paper."

Defense Strong. In winning five of nine in 1965, PHS gave up almost as many points as it scored, 115 to 108. As the new defensive coach, Murray hopes to shore up the defense.

"What we do offensively will determine to a large degree who we will use defensively," he said. "For example, Donaldson would be a good defensive player but he's too valuable at center to risk an injury. However, my feeling is that we will be strong defensively no matter what happens."

Murray reported he has in mind a defensive reservoir containing the names of 15 ends, 14 guards, 10 tackles, 13 linebackers and seven halfbacks. In preseason charts he lists Springer and Fox at end; Kwiatkowski, Butterfoss, Everson and White at tackle; and McKeever, Stechini, Starbuck and Fabian as defensive guards. In the backfield, Grobond Madden, linebackers; Volz and Webber, corner backs; and Rullock and Taylor, halfbacks.

Murray also singled out two sophomores. He called Guy Divisio a 200-pound prospect "who is going to get a big look from me. He's strong and he might fit into the middle of the line."

Nick Arcaro, younger brother of Tony, who was co-captain of the Blue and White last year and one of the better PHS tacklers of recent years, is apparently cast from a similiar mold. "Nick is going to be big and strong," said Murray. "He's got good speed and is a good tackler. He may not play steadily but he'll be able to give somebody a rest."

(Next week: Opposition and Outlook.)

TAILBACK, 1966 EDITION: Bob Weber, Princeton junior, is expected to earn the coaches' designation as starting tailback on Tigers' football team this fall.

SWITCH AT FULLBACK

Martin to Play There. Dave Martin, a 200-lb. back whose running has impressed for the past two seasons but whose passing hasn't measured up to the requirements for a good tailback, has been installed as fullback in Princeton's backfield. The switch at Blairstown made on paper during the summer as the coaching staff was preparing for pre-season drills and put into effect on the first day of practice, is expected to bolster the Tigers' running game.

A reserve tailback for the past two seasons, Martin is a slashing type of runner whose 1965 average of 5.2 yards per carry spoke well for his ability as a ground gainer. However, he connected on only four of 17 passes, and has not demonstrated ability to throw the running pass—the bread-and-butter play from the tailback slot—with any degree of accuracy.

He can heave the bomb half the length of the field, a potential asset that may keep the secondary from moving up too quickly on fullback plunges. If he is called upon to throw at all, he would be the first passing fullback to play for Princeton since Mike Ippolito '60.

Martin's switch to three back will determine the positioning of several other players on the squad. It ends—before it really started — the three-way battle for tailback among Martin, junior Bob Weber and sophomore Dick Bracken. Weber, who put the ball in motion only 40 times last year as a sophomore, has been named assistant coaches for the current season. Both appointments are of an interim nature while they are completing their studies here and are not likely to become permanent because they have other careers in mind.

THE WINNER AND STILL CHAMPION: Mrs. James Whelan (right) last week won her 15th woman's championship at the Springdale Golf Club, defeating Mrs. Robert Shaw, 3 and 1. the coaches' confidence that he can handle the job.

The Canadian-born Bracken, at 210 the biggest tailback ever to come up to the varsity, captained the freshmen last year. His potential is figured to be good enough to rank him as Weber's principal understudy.

Grossman on Defense. Martin's switch also means that senior Ron Grossman will be available again full-time for a fullback's defensive duties — those of linebacker. He was Clint Johnson's understudy there in 1965.

Martin's initial replacement will probably be sophomore Don Hazen, a 6-0, 190-lb. runner who was a standout in his freshman year. He is good enough to make Martin show in impressive fashion if the latter is to hold down the starting berth. Another fullback, senior Bill Berkley, will see limited duty and will continue to handle all the punting as the best player in this specialty in the Ivy League record book.

With John Bowers (in Dick Colman's book, "the best blocking wingback Princeton has ever had") a fixture at his position, the 1966 backfield is beginning to take shape. Only at quarterback, the spot that Bob Bedell held through the first seven games until a kidney injury sidelined him at Harvard, is there uncertainty.

Principal contenders for the position are seniors Chuck Peters and Ted Howard. Peters, who started the Yale and Dartmouth games after Bedell's injury, is a letterman, but Howard has never seen sufficient action to earn one.

There is a major degree of inexperience here, although Princeton's last three quarterbacks, Dick Springs, Roy Pizzarello and Bedell, was a regular until his senior year. However, if Howard should come along to get the nod over Peters, it would be the first time in the modern era of football history here (post-World War I) that a senior who has not won a letter has been selected to run the team.

Also in contention for the job are Roger Hughes, 200-pounder who captained his freshman team two years ago as a fullback, and sophomore Bill Bittner. The latter, a good blocking back as is Hughes, has been slowed at Blairstown by a knee injury.

BUILDING PLANNED AS DISTINCTIVE BUSINESS ENVIRONMENT: This three-story, H-shaped office building will be built by Princeton Plaza Inc, on lower Nassau Street on a site presently occupied by Nassau Interiors. Principals of Princeton Plaza are Edward Farce, president; Delwin Gregory and John Borden. "Our intention," said Mr. Farce, "has been to create a distinctive business environment." J. Robert Hillier of Princeton is the architect. Story this page. (Randall Hagadon Photo)

BUSINESS In Princeton

ROOF PARKING FEATURE

Of New Office Building.

Parking for 187 cars on the roof and underground are two features of a new three-story office building that will be constructed on Nassau Street. The site is the property formerly occupied by Prince Chevrolet and more recently by Nassau Interiors near the intersection of Harrison Street.

Princeton architect J. Robert Hillier designed the 83,000-square foot building for Princeton Plaza, Inc., of which Edward Farce is president. He is associated with Delwin Gregory and John Borden of Princeton.

The H-shaped buildings will have two large courtyards with benches and trees and will be placed well back from Nassau Street to allow for extensive landscaping. The entrance plaza will be highlighted by a large, year-round fountain.

The bulk of the parking will be concealed on the roof and underground so as not to detract from the character of the building. Mr. Borden, owner of Gallery 100, noted that the rooftop parking, Princeton's first, permits more space for plazas and courtyards.

Mr. Gregory of Carnegie Realty is the sole rental agent for the property. Designed primarily for professional use the building will meet all the modern businessman's needs through its total flexibility.

Some features: underfloor power and telephone system, individually-controlled year-round air - conditioning, adjustable modular lighting and complete freedom in partition layout. Also, electric snow melting, wall to wall carpeting, janitorial service and floors designed to carry the latest data processing equipment.

The exterior will be constructed of a rough, stone-like dark brown brick with windows of glare - reducing bronze tinted glass. "Our intention throughout this development," said Mr. Farce, "has been to create a distinctive business environment."

The building presently occupied by Bond Cleaners will be remodeled and become part of the project. All other buildings on the site will be razed. Mr. Gregory said that he hopes construction can begin within three months. Completion is expected by the fall of 1967.

ADAMSON NAMED HEAD

Of Mideast Anodizing Corp.

William Adamson Jr., 174 Constitution Drive, has been elected president of the Mideast Anodizing Corporation of Dayton.

A 1944 graduate of Princeton, Mr. Adamson had previously served as vice - president and general manager. Before joining Mideast, he was associated with the plastics division of Union Carbide for 17 years. He is trained as a chemical engineer.

Raymond Sowers, president of Mideast Aluminum Corp., of which Mideast Anodizing is a subsidiary, noted that "Mr. Adamson's organization realized a 97 percent increase in sales for the past year over the previous period." He added that Mr. Adamson's promotion was part of the company's planned expansion program.

Savidge, finishing his requirements for his diploma after missing four months of classes following his neck injury in the Dartmouth game last fall, will work with the interior linemen at the varsity level. Both he and Iacavazzi are currently at Blairstown.

Cosmo, studying aeronautical engineering as a post-graduate here, will coach the running backs on the Class of 1970 team when it reports to Coach Pep McCarthy in another ten days. Meantime, he is working with the large squad of 76 at Blairstown under the direction of backfield coach Jake McCandless.

Iacavazzi was drafted by the New York Jets and spent the 1965 season on their taxi squad, seeing action only once or twice after the season began. He took another shot at making the AFL team this summer but returned to Princeton last month and has decided to forego a professional career.

REGISTRATION SET

For Midget Football League.

Boys from 9 to 13 who attend school in Princeton Borough or Township are eligible to register Saturday for participation in the Midget Football League.

They should report to the Valley Road School between 9 and 11, but may do so the following Saturday, September 17, at the same time if this weekend is not convenient. Tryouts will start on Saturday, September 24.

Nine-year old boys will be eligible for instruction only, while those from 10 to 13 will be assigned to one of four Barklie McKee Henry, 64, of Fackler Road, died September 4 of a heart attack at his home on Blue Mountain Lake, N. Y., in the Adirondacks.

An early career in journalism and banking was followed by extensive participation in welfare and philanthropic work. He served numerous organizations in an executive capacity and was at the time of his death a trustee of the Institute for Advanced Study.

Mr. Henry was first president of the Community Service Society of New York, assisting in its formation in 1939. He was a governorr and former president of the New York Hospital, a trustee and former chairman of the Carnegie Institution of Washington and a former secretary of the board of trustees of the Cooper Union.

He was also a director of the American Academy in Rome, the Pierpont Morgan Library and the John Hay Whitney Foundation. He served on the advisory council of the philosophy department at Princeton University and was a member of the visiting board of overseers at Harvard.

Born in Ventnor, N. J., the son of William Barklie and Alice Belknap Henry, be prepared at St. George's School in Newport, R. I., for Harvard, from which he graduated cum laude in 1924 He captained the crew as a Harvard undergraduate.

Shortly after his graduation, Mr. Henry married Barbara Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney. The marriage was later terminated in divorce.

Following postgraduate work at Oxford, Mr. Henry in 1925 became assistant to the editor of The Boston American. Thereafter, he was managing editor of The Youth's Companion and assistant to the treasurer of the Atlantic Monthly. From 1928 to 1930 he was in the bond department of the Guaranty Trust Co. and during the depression years (1933-'35) was president of a corporation which published several weekly newspapers in Nassau County, Long Island.

His survivors are his wife, the former Margaret Trowbridge Griggs, whom he married in 1945; three sons, William B., Harold S. and Richard McK.; two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude H. Conner and Miss Mary J. Henry; a stepson, Lawrence T. Griggs; and two sisters, Mrs. Harold S. Vanderbilt and Mrs. Hans Von Briesen.

A memorial service will be held this Thursday at 11 at All Saints Chapel. In lieu of flowers, donations may be made to the Indian Lake Central High School, Indian Lake, N. Y., for a fund to be established in his memory.

Charles Muth, 63, of 221 Moore Street, died August 30 He was assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Princeton for 20 years.

Born in Princeton, he graduated from Rider College and the American Institute of Banking. He was a member of Mercer Engine Company No. 3. A sister, Mrs. Otto Rosner of Princeton, survives.

A service was held at the Mather Funeral Home followed by requiem high mass in St. Paul's Church. Interment took place in the parish cemetery.

James A. Lahey, 56, of 351 Herrontown Road, died September 3 at his home after suffering a heart attack.

Born in Princeton, Mr. Lahey was the owner of Lahey's Mens Clothing Store on Nassau Street. The store was owned before him by his brother, the late William Lahey.

He was a member of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and Princeton Lodge 38, F& AM, and an honorary member of the Squatters Club. Mr. Lahey is survived by his wife, Mrs. Mary Stuart Lahey; a son, James A. Jr.; three daughters, Mrs Raymond Cranstoun Jr., Miss Cathryn M. and Miss Lynn; a grandchild, all of Princeton, a sister, Mrs. William Stanton of Norwood, Mass, and one grandchild.

Graveyard services were held at Princeton Cemetery with Dr. William L. Tucker, pastor emeritus of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, officiating. Arrangements were under direction of Mather Funeral Home.

Mrs. Olive D. Jutting, 58, of South Main Street, Cranbury, died on September 4 at her home.

A native of Highland Park, she was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist, Princeton. Surviving are her husband, Bernhard G. Jutting Sr.; three sons, Bernhard Jr. of Nashville, Tenn., Charles H. of Hightstown and John R. of Cranbury; a brother, Charles H. Dunham of Middlebush; a sister, Mrs. George Bowles of Delaware, and four grandchildren.

The service will be held this Thursday at 10:30 at the Mather Funeral Home. Reader John H. Burman will officiate. Interment will be held at the convenience of the family.

teams in the league. All boys who do not make a team may continue to receive instruction from Jack Petrone and Jack Sapoch.

Princeton Fuel Oil has joined Matthews Construction, Nassau-Conover Motors and the Princeton University Store as a sponsor. These four have made it possible to provide complete equipment and uniforms for 100 boys, who will have to provide only their own mouthpieces and gym shoes. Cleated shoes will not be permitted.

PLAYERS SOUGHT

For Babe Ruth League. West Windsor's hopes to operate a Babe Ruth League during the 1967 season are dependent upon the popularity of the league. In order to gain approval from Williamsport, Pa., league headquarters, at least 48 boys must state their intention of playing before the first of the year.

All boys between the ages of 13 and 15 who are interested in playing Babe Ruth League baseball next year are asked to contact W. P. Mooney at 452-2825.

EXHIBITION, RACES HELD

At River Road Pool. A Labor Day celebration comprising exhibitions, races and demonstrations was held at the River Road Pool in Rocky Hill.

Highlighting a series of events was a diving exhibition given by Olympic Gold Medal winner Leslie Bush and her brother, David. Susan Lemore, Marlene Buiting, "Butch" Robotti and Danny Golden participated in a life-saving demonstration.

Races were won by Elizabeth Kappes, Jane Kappes, Donald Cieselski, Marlene Buiting, Robin Cieselski, Janet Lasley, Tom Thomier, Kathleen Tennyson, George Tacks and Joseph Crell and Norman Stable, the latter two tieing in the hoys 6 and under race.

Borough Engineer Thomas Cawley and his daughter, Denise, won the parent-child relay race, Cawley also capturing the race for fathers. Jane Fremon, Rob Meusel, Chuck Hector, Karen Ryan, Feggy Jabay, Danny Golden and Jeff Bush demonstrated the different swimming strokes.

The Linus R. Gilbert Award for good sportsmanship and greatest improvement in swimming was presented to Peggy Jabay.

News Of The CHURCHES

FALL SCHEDULES BEGIN

For Church Services. Princeton area churches will resume their regular worship times this Sunday after the summer season.

"The Significance of Silence" will be the sermon topic at St. Andrews Presbyterian Church, which begins worship at 10:30. Cavalry Baptist Church will have an 11 o' clock sermon entitled "From Pillars to Pillows."

The Princeton Methodist Church will open its Sunday school program at 9.45 a.m. and the service at 11 will center around the topic, "Baptized into What?" The Lawrenceville Presbyterian Church will begin at 11 also with the sermon topic "Bitter Words Sweet as Honey."

"EVOLUTION" IS TOPIC

For Sunday Discussion. Warren R. Howard from Burlington will be the guest speaker this Sunday at the Princeton Church of Christ on River Road. His topic will be "The Biblical Teaching of Creation vs. Evolution."

The meeting will begin at 6:30 p.m. and will be followed by a discussion.

RALLYING DAY PLANNED

At Calvary Baptist Church. The Cavalry Baptist Church will open its fall schedule this Sunday with a "Rallying Day." There will be a fellowship coffee hour at 10 a.m. during which the new Church School curriculum will be presented.

The morning worship will be held at 11, and discussion groups will meet at 3. At 5:30 there will be a congregational family-style supper for all.

During the afternoon from 2 to 8, prints by Sister Mary Corita will be on display. In the last decade, Sister Mary Corita has become an international figure in art. Her work, has been shown in Paris, London and New York. She is best known for her serigraph (silk-screen) prints.

NEW WINE, SAME BOTTLE

Cousins Remodels. Five new wine racks and three new glass display shelves are now in use at Cousins, the liquor store at 51 Palmer Square West.

By re-arranging storage and display space, Cousins has in effect "remodeled" the store, providing enough room for a cellar of more than 650 different imported and domestic wines.

Wall-to-wall blue-green carpeting has been used in the re-decorated store, contrasting with an entrance area of grey slate. A penguin, Cousin's long-time trade-mark, has been given a place of honor in the center of the slate entry-way.

Rides on air & oil

CITROEN gives you a smoother, safer, more comfortable ride than any car, at any price. With CITROEN'S amazing Air-Oil suspension, you actually ride on air. Other reasons why you'll like CITROEN: up to 100 m.p.h. performance . . . and 28 to 34 m.p.g. economy; constant level ride with any load; sure-footed traction of front-wheel drive; faster, safer stops with "proportional braking." See and test drive CITROEN, and you'll see why it's a great car to drive—and own!

TRADITIONALLY,
A GOOD CHOICE

A well-designed center hall Colonial has always been the single most popular sort of house. This one, of mellow cedar shakes, enjoys a high township half acre (plus) with views into the woods. Inside, a sunken living room and formal dining room flank the foyer. A paneled study, fully equipped kitchen with eating space and powder room complete the ground floor. Upstairs, 4 corner bedrooms and 2-baths. Attic, cellar, two car garage and screened porch. Owner's new house nearing completion so occupancy can be soon.

10 reasons why you should buy a home in Wynnewood at Cranbury:

- Wynnewood at Cranbury is a custom-crafted community of thirty lovely homes, set against a backdrop of fine old trees.
- Cranbury is one of New Jersey's few remaining "small-town" towns . . . a real village atmosphere!
- Cranbury is 6 miles from Princeton, 50 minutes from mid-town Manhattan.
- All lots are a MINIMUM of one full acre.
- Fine school system —including all-new Regional High School.
- Elegance of design is overwhelming!
- Solidity of construction is paramount!
- Every home has the most modern of kitchens with the new Caloric "75" double-oven range and dishwater included.
- All utilities; curbs, walks, etc. are in and paid for!
- Gracious covered portico and full 2-car garages.

There are really hundreds of reasons why you should own a Wynnewood at Cranbury home! See for yourself.

Prices range from $34,900 to $40,000

LOSERS WEEPERS: and there's nothing more frustrating than having the perfect house slip away just because you didn't act fast enough. So, never let it be said we didn't give fair warning! This fine 5 bedroom (one is tucked away by itself just waiting for that independent teenager) Borough house might very well be gone tomorrow. Carpeted living and dining rooms, well equipped kitchen, huge panelled family room with oak parquet floors, a fireplace and sliding doors to the terrace, 2½ baths, separate laundry room and a most useful cubic foot another era, back stairs. Two car garage, fenced yard. Apple pie condition. Be the keeper, not the weeper. $47,500

IT AIN'T NECESSARILY SO: The term 'colonial' can oft conceal a multitude of sins (architectural and otherwise) and usually does, when lightly tossed off by the advertising copywriter. Here, we refer to a 150 year old two story house of stone and frame construction which was entirely (and beautifully) rebuilt some 30 years ago. It contains a square living room with fireplace and random pine floors, handsomely proportioned dining room, cozy study with a second fireplace, large country kitchen, pine panelled breakfast room and two lavatories downstairs. On the second floor there is a master bedroom with fireplace, plus two other bedrooms and two baths. There are seven acres of land with trees, a pond and several useful outbuildings. Midway between Princeton and Lawrenceville. $60,000

SNOWDEN LANE: is a delightful street: convenient, unpretentious, and home to a typical cross-section of Princeton residents, professors, commuters, attorneys, teachers, chemists and salesmen. If you care about 'neighborhood' and are looking for a modestly priced house, then we can certainly help. We have a 15 year old one story house in perfect condition on a tree-filled half acre. Living-dining combination, nicely updated kitchen, study (could be separate dining room), 3 bedrooms, bath. Breezeway, two car garage, full cellar. A very sensible buy at $33,500

IF THIS WERE JUST AN ORDINARY HOUSE, YOU WOULDN'T BE INTERESTED: But extraordinary is the word; Rusticated, round-arched, Romanesque extraordinary! Built in 1874 of stone, it has walls 18" thick, high ceilings, 6 fireplaces, over an acre of ground and endless possibilities.

FOUR BEDROOMS . . . in a fine neighborhood full of playmates for your children, the house is a charming Contemporary with large living-dining room (your grand piano won't dominate it!), a very modern kitchen with dishwasher and disposal, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths . . . all on one floor. Nice trees on the property and in the area. Very inexpensive to heat. Close to schools and the Shopping Center, but on a quiet side street. $35,800

ELM RIDGE PARK . . . on a wooded acre-and-a-half in this lovely rural residential neighborhood, here is a two-story brick and frame home with 5 large bedrooms and 2½ baths. Only two years old, the home is in impeccable condition. Foyer, large living room with fireplace, screened porch, separate dining room, very modern kitchen with every convenience, paneled family room, screened porch, 2-car attached garage. Custom built . . . truly a lovely home. (Sole Agent) $59,500

ARMOUR ROAD . . . On almost an acre of beautifully landscaped land in one of Princeton's finest locations, this brick and frame residence offers an unusual opportunity to move into one of our most coveted sections. Designed by a modern architect, the house has foyer, paneled living room with fireplace and French doors leading to a lovely terrace, dining room, kitchen, powder room, den . . . and, for you interested in a retirement home, 2 bedrooms and bath on first floor. Upstairs: 2 more bedrooms and bath. Recreation room downstairs. 2-car attached garage. (Sole Agent) $63,500

BRAND NEW . . . charming Colonial home in a neighboring community less than 10 minutes from the Shopping Center. This fine home has a large modern kitchen, separate dining room, big living room, paneled family room, powder room, 4 bedrooms, 2 baths. Two-car attached garage. More than an acre of lovely land with a view. Woods in the background. This is your last opportunity to get a brand new house so close to Princeton in our rolling hill country at such a price. $36,900

TREES . . . TREES . . . TREES . . . on almost two acres right in Princeton, here are some of the most beautiful evergreens, oaks, sycamores and other bird sanctuaries that are now growing in a town noted for its lovely trees. The house, a custom-built brick and frame one-story dwelling, has foyer, large living room with a brick fireplace wall, dining room, modern kitchen, master bedroom and bath, 2 other bedrooms and bath, and a small den. Downstairs: large recreation room with fireplace. $69,000

MANOR HOUSE . . . superb old Colonial dwelling only 12 minutes from Princeton. It stands under magnificent shade trees, behind the long driveway that curves up to the front door. Beautiful living and dining rooms, paneled library. Modern kitchen, game room with bar, 6 bedrooms and 4 baths. Plenty of land for privacy — 33 acres approximately. Plus an indoor swimming pool annex, 60 feet in diameter, with a heated pool large enough for a platoon to splash in, and a vast expanse of flagstone with plenty of room to entertain all the guests you can think of. (Sole Agent) $159,500
